

Jax and Princess Buttercup

A couple months ago we adopted a kitten from you all his name was "cougar" aka Jax. When we brought him home and met this big brother Princess Buttercup. They hit it off great!! They wrestle, snuggle and chase all the time. I posted a picture to a rescue site of where we got our Princess Buttercup and they loved their chemistry so much they are going to do a photo shoot with the a reportable Animal Magazine in Texas! I thought that it would be cool to let you all know. I will send a pic once I have it. The magazine intention was to have the sibling cat and dog on their valentine cover for February :)
