

Max

We adopted our little Chweenie, Max, (originally known as Uno) @ the end of July w 2011. He was a birthday gift for my son, Gabe, for his 11th birthday this summer. Gabe had looked very hard on the Internet for potential pets & was very happy that Max passed the cat test to qualify him to come home with us. I have seen an amazing change come over my son as he has really shown great love for Max. He has accepted the responsibilities that come with pet ownership including care, feeding, exercising & has signed up for the dog training classes offered in Sept-Oct. @ the Humane Society without question. He has surprised me by developing his own maturity & responsibility out of his love for Max. I am very proud of my son for this growth of character & I am happy to have provided a good home for our cute Max.

Here is Max digging into his favorite blanket, a Snuggie! Behind him is the feet of our other adopted family member, Casper, our Tomcat, watching the action!
