

Dexter aka Ralph

I adopted Dexter (who was formerly called Ralph), a three month old kitten, to surprise my husband and we love having him as a part of our family!

I fell in love with Dexter at the Humane Society because he was so playful. At home, he is more playful than ever and he especially loves to play fetch! He'll chase his tennis ball for hours, and it still makes us laugh to watch him. I also love that he's so vocal- he responds whenever we talk to him and follows us through the house talking up a storm. His favorite day is laundry day because he loves to roll in the warm clothes that just came out of the dryer.

My favorite thing about Dexter is that he's such a wonderful companion. He's by my side the entire day and snuggles with me for hours while I study. My husband and I are just so thankful to have him in our lives and he means the world to us!

Thank you!
