

Li'l

We adopted our kitten Li'l a week before Christmas, in hopes that she would be a new friend to our dog Raindrop, who had recently lost her best buddy. Li'l immediately adapted to her new home and within two weeks, Raindrop had a new buddy. They play and chase each other so fast, I can't get a picture of them playing, so I'll just show you Li'l on Christmas Day, playing in a box.

What we like best about Li'l is her squeaky meow. She sounds like a squeaky toy.

I wish we could have adopted Li'l's brother John at the same time but Raindrop probably wouldn't have handled that well. I hope he found a wonderful home and is loved as much as Li'l.
