

Roxy

I want to offer the success story of my dog, Roxy. She is now a 2 year old athlete! I adopted her from the San Antonio Humane Society in December 2011 as an 8 week old puppy, at the time, named Paris.

Since she was a baby, and simply listed as a "Shepherd mix", I wasn't sure what kind of temperament she would have, but she quickly blossomed into an amazing puppy. She learned extremely quickly! Roxy had figured out basic commands, manners, potty training, and even some tricks by 6 months! She continues to be an amazing addition to our family. She is the most lovable, sweet, obedient, fun loving and amazing dog.

Not only is she an amazing family companion, but she's a hard working driven working dog! I started training her for weight pull about one year ago, simply as an outlet for her energy, but Roxy has taken me by surprise.

She has far exceeded my wildest expectations and not only become competitive in weight pull competitions against other dogs, but she has earned multiple titles, including "Weight Pull Grand Champion", within professional weight pull organizations. I'm so proud of what Roxy has accomplished over the past year. Weight pull gives her a job to do and train for, and she has flourished since we started. It also strengthens our bond as dog/trainer, as well as dog/owner.

I couldn't have asked for a better dog in my life! Roxy is the most amazing I could've ever asked for. She gives me, and my family her all everyday, and I'm so thankful for the opportunity to own such an amazing dog!

Thank you!!
