

Zeke

Hello Friends,

A few months ago we walked into the shelter to "look" at the puppies and to see if our boys were ready for us to add a new member to our family. We instantly fell in love with Zeke from the first tail wag and wet kiss. We visited with him and then a few other pups. We drove away to run some errands and we all seemed to feel like we'd left a part of us at the shelter. We made it through half our errands (talking about him the entire way) and then raced back to make sure he was still available to adopt. Thankfully Zeke was. We played with him a little more and then went on to fill out the paperwork. We love our naughty, mischievous, and silly little Zeke. He truly fits right in to our family. Thank you so much for all the help and support we got from you all during this process. It was our first experience adopting and our first experience as new puppy parents. We are grateful for all the helpful information and tips for raising our little guy but most of all for taking such great care of him until we met him. Here are a few snap shots of him and how much he's grown.

Thanks again,

Zeke ' s folks
