

Elvis

Hello Friends,

It's your old pal Elvis and I wanted to tell you about how good I'm doing with the family I adopted. I've been with them 3 weeks now and we are learning so much from each other. Mom has been helping me understand that marking in the house doesn't make her happy and I'm helping her understand that if I don't get to sleep in the bed with the human boys I will bark all night long from my kennel . Zeke my younger brother has learned that even though he's much bigger then me, I'm still the oldest and that makes me the boss. Just look at how I comandeered his pillow! Today is Zeke's 1st birthday and since my birthday had just passed when I adopted them, we celebrated for me to!! Mom bought us some cupcakes and they were good! Well I've gotta let you go for now, I think one of the human boys left their meatloaf unattended.

Take care and God bless!

-Elvis (the hunk of burning love)
