

Jeep

I adopted Jeep in July 2013. She was deemed "aggressive towards children" by a previous owner and given back after only a few weeks. I have no clue what dog that owner was talking about, because Jeep is truly the most loving and caring creature I have ever met. She enjoys cuddling close to you at all times, licking every person she meets, car rides, and climbing trees. Jeep wants nothing more than to play with others and befriend every dog, person, and cat she encounters. Also, she LOVES children. She's never without a smile on her face and always has energy to play, so thank you SA Humane for giving me the chance to find my forever best friend.
