

Paige and Paislee

Just wanted to send an update on our "twins," Paige and Paislee (formerly Maria and Marla). They will be turning 1 this Sunday and have been two absolute delights. They are so different personality wise but still so attached to each other and us. Love them! The picture is from one night when they were wrestling like Paige loves to do and I told her to be nice to her sister. They both stopped to look at me right as Paige was holding Paislee's head down.
