

Dobby

This is Dobby, formerly known as Maggie Madsen. When we adopted her from SAHS, she seemed to have the knowledge and instincts of a puppy, except that she saw everything (EVERYTHING) as a potential threat. I'm happy to report that she now gets along with the air conditioner, pants hanging in the wrong place, box deliveries, AND the cat. She walks on a leash, obeys basic commands, and the last puppy gate finally came down this weekend. We're still working on anxiety issues (mostly meeting new people), but as you can see, she enjoys being a pampered pet, & we love her quirks and all.
