

Hercules & Apollo

Current pictures of Hercules (Tan Beagle) and Apollo (Black/White) Lab-Terrier mix. Our nickname for Hercules is “Snaggletooth” or simply “Herc.” Both dogs get excited whenever we come out to play with them. And if you say the “W-A-L-K” you better be ready with the leashes because they go ballistic for their walks outside our neighborhood. One final cute thing my wife Sibone taught them... When it’s time to eat if they’re jumping and acting wild we’ll say, “What do we do?” ... and automatically both dogs will sit upright and still for their food bowls to be fed. We’ll sort of still, Apollo, our ADHD dog, wags his tail and with his whole body “twitching” with excitement in anticipation of his food. They’re really wonderful dogs. Please see the two new attachments.

Thank you,

Michael & Sibone
