

Honey

Hi. This is an update from my dog, Honey.

Colin

Hello. My name is Honey. A year ago, I adopted a human from the San Antonio Humane Society (Where else would you get your humanes? It's in the name!). While I was initially skeptical, the human turned out to be a pretty good deal. We have gone on many adventures and experienced lots of new things in the last year. I have a house with THE BEST COUCH IN THE UNIVERSE. I've made new dog friends, including Pepper the schnoodle and Leo the husky. (I don't know what a "schnoodle" is, but I suspect it means "little dog with really bad breath.") I walk my human at least twice a day. "You can't stop traffic if you're stuck in the house!" I always say. I have impressed my human with my knack for making discoveries on our walks, like finding a half-rack of ribs, which he did not let me keep. Sometimes the human dresses me up for holidays. I'm not real enthusiastic about this, but you have to humor your pet from time to time. I look forward to many years of adventures, treats, and naps with my human.

I encourage everyone to support the Humane Society and help more humanes find their way to great dogs. And maybe cats.
