

Sebastian & Samson

Hello! I wanted to send a message to let y'all know how our new kittens are doing. Recently, we were heartbroken when our 13 year old cat passed away with cancer. We have adopted all our furry family members (including our two dogs and our cat, Barnaby, that passed away), and we decided that we should add a new cat to our family and adopt, in his honor. And that's how we came to find "Vance" (Now named Sebastian), the first kitten we adopted from y'all a month ago. He has been a joy-so smart and playful, but also a handful for our two dogs. We have often heard that, when adopting a kitten, it's always better to adopt two. So three weeks after adopting Sebastian, we found "Simba" (now named Samson) at your shelter. He is a total love bug and he and Sebby have become the best of friends. I'm including a couple of pictures of the little guys to let you know how they are doing in their new home. Thank you for all you do for the animals of our city.
