

Wee Thomas

We adopted Prince (who is now Wee Thomas) on November 26. He was 2 months old and weighed 3 pounds. Soon we realized he needed a friend so on January 10 we adopted Val (who is now Lyra). She was three months old and weighed 2.5 pounds. She was so frightened and spent the first two days under our bed. Her brother Thomas helped her understand that she would be ok and this was home. They are now inseparable. They are both over 5 pounds now. They play and explore the house together and they sleep with us at night and purr. They have indeed enriched our life.
