

Shadow and Max

We adopted Shadow (formerly Mr. Shadow) and Max (formerly Gandalf) on August 11th 2009. We have been so happy with our adoption. Shadow had been at the SPCA for about 4 months. He is a bloodhound/yellow lab mix about two years old. We think he may have been passed by as he has a slight limp in a back hip due to injury and then surgery. But he was so gentle and sweet with us and he is a very handsome dog. We paired him up with Max, who we saw there in another cage, to see if they'd get along as we were pretty sure about Shadow. Max is a Catahoula mix and about one years old. They got along well in the 20 or so minutes they spent together. We slept on it to be sure and returned the next day to take them home. The best thing about them is how well they get along, which is why we adopted two dogs... so they would play with each other when we were at work or away from home. They play all the time and do wonderfully for two males. We are training them and Shadow can be off leash regularly now.
