

Wishbone

"A Guardian Angel helped bring Wishbone to a new home, and he is already one very loved dog. He has stolen the hearts of all members of the Longoria family. Even though the family worried about the cost of adopting a dog, they really wanted a friend and companion for their physically challenged son. That's where Karen Hilo became their guardian angel, picking up adoption costs and heartworm preventative medicine for the new family member. Because Wishbone loves to walk, the Longorias are getting out and about more often. Wishbone has had no potty accidents since he went home with them. Instead, he goes to the door and cries to go out. Wishbone also is getting his picture taken with Santa this Christmas. What a wonderful fit Wishbone is for this family. They deserved a dog that looks after them as much as they look after him. What an appropriate name they chose for a little dog that made a family's wish come true. I just know Wishbone was meant to be with them because I think he wanted to look after this very special family. The Longorias' love for Wishbone is returned tenfold by this very special dog."
