

Good Afternoon just wanted to update you on Mimzi, she is doing well she is slowly exploring her surroundings it'll take her awhile to discover the whole back yard LOL but she'll get there. She is also the quietest co-worker I've ever had, slept upside down in her bed all day 😊 I'm glad to see she has a great appetite. She will be seeing her new doctor next week. That's it for now have a great night!

Just an update on Miss Mimzi :). She is doing well and so spoiled! She has continued to thrive and has even gained 4 lbs since she's been with us! She enjoys going everywhere with us in her doggy backpack and had her first experience with her new groomer who comes to the house for her. Get that she has a spa day right in the driveway :). That's it for now.
