

Success Stories!

I wanted to share a few photos from Dax's (aka Puddin's) first few days in his forever home.

He, Stewie, and Sally are all still figuring each other out, but he's making progress to become bolder and more comfortable every day. Today, when I got home from work he was chillin on the sofa with Robert and got up to greet me at the door! He loves to eat and sniff around the yard and of course, walkies!

Thanks again for all you do! I am sure thankful we get to have dogs in our lives. :), Kelly
