

Success

---

Stories!

---

Dear SA Humane Society,

Duchess Tamousky Brancio-Lawrence here. Just wanted to say Thank You for hosting me while I was looking for my forever home back in early June. I've been living here with my family for almost two months. It's been scary and exciting at the same time. They put me in this room with a big bed in it. I was so scared I hid in a dark spot under the bed and was never coming out. The Daddies would come in and try to play with me but I was too scared. They would come visit me and play with me after they'd pull me out from my hiding place. Eventually they blocked off my access to my hiding spot making it impossible for me to hide. They got me some toys and I played with them. My favorite toys are the blue knitted toy that I brought with me from the Humane Society, the little mouse I brought, the little mice they had, and this little krinkly mylar ball. It makes noise when I play with it. They finally let me meet the other pets in the house. I was curious about them but they hissed and turned their backs to me. I was patient though.

My big brother Louie has become my friend and is showing me the ropes. I still like to hide under the dining room table when I'm sleeping. I won't let anyone get close to me when it's time to eat. I still don't know my name and refuse to go to them when they call. I'm beginning to get brave enough to lay on the furniture when I'm hanging out.

A couple of weeks ago they brought home a miniature schnauzer puppy. I'm no longer the youngest in the house. I'm starting to play with him. His name is Schotzy Orangejello Brancio-Lawrence. He likes to chase me and I like to pounce on him and play swat at him. You know, crazy cat stuff. Sometimes I get the zoomies. They love me because when I get in their lap they will gently pet me so I purr. And I mean, a lot! I like it here, so I'll stay. Thanks for giving me and my brothers and sisters a great start. We were lucky because we were Siamese. We all were adopted within an hour. Daddies Mike and Troy Thank you too. Sincerely,

Duchess Tamousky Brancio-Lawrence

