“My husband and I just had gotten married. He was feeling lonesome without a furry pet of his own. I had my cat Binx to keep me company, But he wanted another buddy around the house. So, It’s been 8 months since we’ve had Bologna. We got her when she was 5m old, so we renamed her to Newt. She was very skittish for a few weeks and would run supper fast under the couch hiding. However, my husband and I were patient with her. We understood she had been returned many times beforehand so she wasn’t used to staying in one place for long.

At first she got acquainted with our other cat, Binx. Then after about a month, she started to realize we weren’t taking her back. I am excited to say she is incredible happy & comfortable here. She has a quirky personality and loves her brother. Adopting her was the best decision we made as a newly married couple. We love her so much and are grateful for the care you guys gave her at VCA. Here are some pictures of her.
