“Hi! I just wanted to give an update about our addition Anakin. After visiting with the him for the first time I instantly knew he was the one for us, I went back for him the following week and brought him to his forever home. Every day we get to see him grow and form his personality and sassiness and it has been the best. He absolutely loves cuddling and taking long naps. His favorite place is on the couch looking out the window to see everyone passing by watching the birds. Anakin and my son are partners in crime, they are nearly inseparable. Where one goes, the other follows.

“Anakin loves going to the dog park but is still learning to play with others. He introduces himself on his own time which is fine with us. Since he has grown and is comfortable he is going to start training to be my service dog. He has already shown amazing progress at learning commands and is already attached to my hip. He truly is the perfect boy for us and we are so grateful for this blessing. Thank you San Antonio Humane Society, without y’all this precious boy along with so many others wouldn’t have had a chance at a second life. We are forever grateful <3.
