“Hello,

It's been 6 months since we brought Hershey home! If y'all remember she was soooo shy & nervous.

She has grown so much in these last few months. She loves to play with my daughter & tries playing with our cats.. though they don't agree with that ha!

Every day I come home from work she's wiggling her butt so excited to see me. She has taken two small roadtrips with us and did amazing. There's still plenty of work to do with her but she has really opened up so much already.

The only time so far she's actually needed her anxiety meds was during the New Year's fireworks.

We are so happy Hershey came into our lives.

Thank you SA Humane society for bringing us together.
