From Our President/CEO

It's summertime in San Antonio, and while that means fun pool days and sunshine for some, this can be a difficult season for homeless and vulnerable dogs and cats. At the San Antonio Humane Society (SAHS), our shelter is filling up with adorable puppies and kittens, as well as some of the most resilient dogs and cats like Quarry.

This beautiful one-year-old cat was found abandoned along with nine others, all battling multiple infections and in need of immediate medical attention. The amazing team in our Leeu Naylor Medical Building immediately jumped in to provide treatment and care to each cat. Quarry received daily nebulization treatments, nasal drops, and eventually had surgery to remove her infected eye. We're happy to say that after her recovery, she got a second chance at living a happy and healthy life in her new forever home.

Your kindness and generosity fuel our mission to protect and improve the lives of dogs and cats in our community. As we continue our lifesaving efforts, we hope you will also continue to be a part of our incredible work.

Warmly,

Nancy F. May
President/CEO

Fall Into Volunteering at the SAHS!

Looking to give back with your coworkers, school group, or organization? The San Antonio Humane Society (SAHS) is now accepting group volunteer requests for the fall season, starting in September! Whether it's lending a hand around the shelter, helping with pet enrichment, or supporting special projects, your group can make a noteworthy impact on the dogs and cats in our care.

Hobbes Finds His Happy Ending!

When Hobbes arrived at the SAHS, his journey to a better life was just beginning. This handsome five-year-old orange tabby was found wandering the streets, injured and needing serious medical attention. Upon examination, our medical team discovered he was battling a rare condition called plasma cell pododermatitis, also referred to as "Pillow Foot." His paw pads were swollen and tender, making every step uncomfortable.

Determined to help him heal, our medical team developed a specialized treatment plan, including medication, laser therapy, and plenty of comfy bedding to keep him comfortable. Over time, Hobbes responded well to care, and his paws gradually returned to normal. As his pain faded, his personality began to shine bright, revealing a sweet, affectionate cat with the most soothing purrs.

When Hobbes' treatment was complete, he caught the eye of a loving family looking for a new feline friend. They were drawn to his resilience and gentle spirit, and after spending time with him, they knew he was the perfect addition to their home. Now, Hobbes has a new life filled with cozy blankets, endless treats, and a family that adores him.

Hobbes' story is a testament to the power of caring supporters like you. Because of you, more dogs and cats will get the second chance they deserve!

Foster at the SAHS and Give Pets a Second Chance

The SAHS Foster Care Program gives dogs and cats the second chance they deserve. Many pets coming into our care are too young, recovering from illness or injury, or simply need some extra TLC before they are ready for adoption.

The SAHS provides all the essentials – food, supplies, and medical care, so foster parents can focus on giving love and comfort. Anyone 18 years or older can become a foster, even if you already have pets. Our foster team will guide you every step of the way!

Take Teddy, for example, a sweet seven-year-old Retriever/Hound mix still searching for his perfect home. After two other adoption attempts, we learned Teddy would shine bright as the only pet in a quiet, adult-only household. While in foster care, Teddy showed how much he loves to play, cuddle, and go on walks. His foster home stay gave him a break from the often busy shelter environment and helped him show more of his sweet personality.
